

Welcome to my pdf document.

hello there

ah, general kenobi

The music is extremely subtle, and without a solid grasp of theoretical physics most of the grooves will go over a typical listener's head. There's also Meshuggah's nihilistic outlook, which is deftly woven into their characterization- their personal philosophy draws heavily from Narodnaya Volya literature, for instance. The fans understand this stuff; they have the intellectual capacity to truly appreciate the depths of these sounds, to realize that they're not just heavy- they say something deep about LIFE. As a consequence people who dislike Meshuggah truly ARE idiots- of course they wouldn't appreciate, for instance, the genius in Jens' existential catchphrase "I like juice, finish your juice, feel the vitamin substance," which itself is a cryptic reference to Turgenev's Russian epic Fathers and Sons. I'm smirking right now just imagining one of those addlebrained simpletons scratching their heads in confusion as Fredrik Thordendal's genius wit unfolds itself on their Spotify. What fools.. how I pity them. And yes, by the way, I DO have a Meshuggah tattoo. And no, you cannot see it. It's for the ladies' eyes only- and even then they have to demonstrate that they're within 5 IQ points of my own (preferably lower) beforehand. Nothin personnel kid
